

FIRST ANNOUNCEMENT
YERME-Day 2027 (February 7th and 8th, 2027)
(<https://www.cerme15.org/yerme-day/>)

YERME and the Local Organisers are happy to invite young researchers of ERME to take part in the YERME-Day 2027. The YERME-Day provides an opportunity for participants to meet scholars in European Mathematics Education from different academic traditions. In addition, it constitutes an important opportunity for meeting and networking with young researchers from other countries, pursuing similar and not so similar research issues.

The YERME-Day begins one day before the CERME15 congress, that means on Sunday, February 7, and ends on Monday, February 8, 2027, before the official opening of CERME15. It will take place in Bratislava (Slovakia) and will be hosted by Comenius University, jointly organised by the Faculty of Mathematics, Physics and Informatics and the Faculty of Education. [Note: Remember to book an extra night for YERME-Day, from February 7 to February 8, 2027]

Program

The program foresees five working groups and two plenary sessions. Senior scholars in Mathematics Education will lead the five working groups (WGs). Each WG will have up to 30 participants that will attend two out of these five working groups, one on each day. More details will be available at the CERME15 website by October 2026.

Registration process

The online registration will be available from October 31, 2026, until January 4, 2027, via the CERME15 electronic submission system (ConfTool). Attendance at YERME-Day is free of charge but, to be accepted, applicants need to be registered for CERME15.

In case the registrations on YERME-Day exceed the capacities, priority will be given to applicants who, in order, (1) have never participated in a YERME-Day, (2) are currently attending a PhD programme and (3) come from European, or neighbouring countries underrepresented at CERME.

We look forward to seeing many of you in Bratislava!
