Promotion of CERME 15 in Bratislava

Dear members of the Local Organizing Committee of CERME 15,

The Gesellschaft für Didaktik der Mathematik (GDM), the Society for Research in Mathematics Education in German speaking countries, is very pleased to support the 15th Congress of the European Society for Research in Mathematics Education (CERME15), which will take place in Bratislava from 8 to 12 February 2027.

CERME is of particular importance to the European mathematics education research community. For many years, researchers from Germany and members of the GDM have participated actively in the CERME conferences and their Thematic Working Groups. The congress provides an important forum for exchanging research findings, developing new perspectives, and strengthening collaboration among mathematics education researchers across Europe and beyond.

The GDM is committed to fostering international academic exchange and cooperation. We welcome cooperation with the CERME15 organizers and are happy to support the promotion of the congress. We encourage our members and colleagues to participate in the conference.

We wish the Local Organizing Committee every success in preparing CERME15 and look forward to an inspiring and productive congress in Bratislava.

Yours sincerely,

Prof. Dr. Florian Schacht
First Chairman of the GDM
